JEFF IN PETTICOATS.

Now when he saw the game was up, he started for the woods, His band-box hung upon his arm quite full of fancy goods: Said Jeff. "They'll never take me now, I'm sure I'll not be seen," "They'd never think to look for me beneath my Crinoline."

Chorus. Jeffy D! &c.

4.

Jeff took with him, the people say, a mine of golden coin, Which he from banks and other places, managed to purloin: But while he ran, like every thief, he had to drop the spoons, And may-be that's the reason why he dropped his pantaloons!

Chorus. Jeffy D! &c.

Our Union boys were on his track for many nights and days, His palpitating heart it beat, enough to burst his stays, O! what a dash he must have cut with form so tall and lean; Just fancy now the "What is it," dressed up in Crinoline!

Chorus. Jeffy D! &c.

6.

The Ditch that Jeff was hunting for, he found was very near; He tried to "shift" his base again, his neck felt rather queer: Just on the out-"skirts" of a wood his dainty shape was seen, His boots stuck out, and now they'll hang old Jeff in Crinoline.

Chorus. Jeffy D! &c.
